The final lots of our Rug buyer's recent purchases in Constantinople, Smyrna and Ghiorides are here. At the outset we want to impress the following facts upon your mind:

Every Rug is the first grade of genuine Handmade Orientals.

Every piece has been personally selected for its beauty of design, richness and harmony of coloring. They will be sold at actually less than half former low prices.

All persons who have seen them say that it is the choicest collection of fine Oriental Rugs ever shown anywhere, and the prices are the lowest.

Here's a list of some of the smaller sizes:

$7.50 each.

$12, $14, $16 grades.

13) fine Daghestan Hearth Rugs, semi-antique, averaging in size from 3x5 to 3x7 to 4x7 feet, for

$14 each.

$22 to $26 grades.

10) very choice Daghestan Rugs, soft and silky selected antiques, suitable for the richest room in the house, averaging 3x5 to nearly 4x7 feet, for

$18 each.

$30 and $35 grades.

Scores and scores of big room-size Turkish and Persian Carpets at proportionately low prices. All sorts of color combinations. The following gives an idea of the cost and size range:

Carpet 10x12, $48; regular price $95.
Carpet 12x18, $50; regular price $120.
Carpet 11x18, $50; regular price $100.

RUSSIAN JEWS.

Diplomatic Correspondence Between this Country and Russia.

TREATMENT OF THE ISRAELITES

By the Latter Government Not Due to any Special Ukase, but is Based on a Vast Jungle of Laws That is Impossible to Untangle—The Charge That the Most Unbearable are Shipped to America is Denied.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—The diplomatic correspondence between Russia and the United States for last year just published, relates largely to the condition of the Israelites in Russia and their immigration to the United States, this being in May, 1893, when Secretary Gresham telegraphed Minister White to the effect against Jews, and which it was supposed would result in a large immigration of that people to the United States. Minister White, in reply, stated that there was a tendency to greater rigor on the part of the government in its treatment of the Jews. As to the laws or orders regarding this people, he said:

"The treatment of the Israelites, whether good or evil, is not based entirely upon any one ukase or statute; there are said to be in the vast jungle of the laws of this empire, more than 1,000 decrees and statutes relating to them, besides innumerable circulars, open or secret, regulations, restrictions, extensions, and temporary arrangements, general, special and local, forming such a tangled growth that probably no human being can say what the law as a whole, is—least of all can a Jew in any province have any certain knowledge of his rights."

He discusses at length the condition of the Jews in Russia and the contempt in which they are held by all classes of Russians. Very small opportunities are afforded for the education of Jews, and even where they form the greater bulk of population only a third are allowed to hold municipal offices. He says the religious restrictions are most illogical and incomprehensible. The Russians charge the Jews with fanaticism, but Mr. White says they cannot be rendered less so by the treatment they received.

The Jews were more kindly treated by Alexander II, and Mr. White attributes the reaction against them to the assassination of that monarch. He closes by saying that the policy of Russia is driving the Jews out of the country, many of whom are destined to come to the United States.

After this despatch Mr. Gresham writes to Mr. Webb, secretary of the legation, saying:

"The continued enforcement of such harsh measures, necessarily forcing upon us large numbers of degraded and undesirable persons, who must, in great measures, be supported, cannot be regarded as consistent with the friendship which the Russian government has long professed for the United States."

Some further correspondence ensued and in January Mr. Webb informed Secretary Gresham that the final expulsion of the Jews from the province of St. Petersburg was extended until June, 1895. Mr. White soon after informed the department that the Russian government absolutely denied that it was assisting Jewish emigrants to the United States. Another letter quotes from a German paper saying that it was determined to send the best Jewish emigrants to the Argentine and the helpless were to be assisted to the United States.

Another question raised was the right of a naturalized citizen of the United States to relinquish his citizenship and become a Russian citizen. Mr. Gresham says this right is unquestioned.

A diplomatic question was raised over Joseph Wingfield, an American citizen of African descent, fourteen years old, who was going to St. Petersburg as a servant of a resident of that city. He was stopped at the frontier, but through the intervention of Mr. White, was allowed to proceed, but the Russian government refuses to allow him to remain unless he has a passport. The objections to issuing him a passport was not that he was under age, but that he went to St. Petersburg with the intention of remaining five years. Assistant Secretary Uhl said that a passport might issue to a minor upon satisfactory proof that he intended to return to the United States before obtaining his majority.

Key West, Fla., April 18.—Report here has it that Martinez Campos has departed for the field with 6,000 troops. Wild Catters in Ohio.
ST. MARY'S, O., April 18.—Oil producers are flocking in from all directions and hundreds of leases are made in and around the St. Mary's reservoir, in the great oil producing territory. Many leases run up in the thousands. One leaseholder, possessing only very limited territory along the reservoir bank is said to have refused $100,000 from parties seeking to divide his territory. His oil receipts of the same in the last ten days were $2,750. The price of crude at present is 93c, while refined has reached $1.53.

STARTLING DISCOVERY.

Alleged Plot to Assassinate the President of France—The Work to be Done by an Anarchist.

PARIS, April 18.—The Petit Journal announces that it has good authority for stating that the prefecture of police has detailed a number of detectives to investigate an anarchist plot, the object of which is or was to assassinate M. Faure, the president of the republic, during the fete at Havre in honor of his visit to that city. President Faure represented one of the districts of Havre in the chamber of deputies, previous to his election to the chief magistracy of the republic. The president is also a ship owner of Havre and a member of its chamber of commerce, of which body he was formerly president. During the Franco-Prussian war he commanded a battalion of volunteers from Havre and led them to Paris, where he took part in the suppression of the commune. Naturally the inhabitants of Havre have been looking forward to the president's visit to their city with considerable pleasure, and a number of elaborate fetes have been organized in order to show the esteem in which he is held in his electorate.

According to the Petit Journal, an anarchist known as "Pettit Bordeaux," a man of a type similar to Caserio, the murderer of President Carnot, and Ravachol, the anarchist who was executed after having been convicted of being concerned in dynamite outrages, left London recently on his way to Havre in order to assassinate President Faure. Pettit Bordeaux, who is a deserter from the French army, was watched by the London police and by the French detectives detailed to keep an eye on anarchists in London. Consequently his departure from London was promptly signalled to the police of Paris and of Havre. The authorities of these two cities and elsewhere are taking the most active precautions in order to protect the president from injury.

"BILL" CANNON MARRIED.

An Old Pathfinder, at the Age of 74, Remarries His Divorced Wife.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 18.—William J. Cannon—"Bill" Cannon, soldier, scout, pathfinder—a man seventy-four years of age, has applied to Recorder Quayle for a marriage license. What was more, he wanted to marry his own wife. They were married in the '70's, but Cannon went west soon thereafter and deserted his wife. Two years ago, after having a most remarkable career, he returned east and became an inmate of the soldiers' home at Leavenworth, Kan. In the meantime, believing her husband dead, and desiring to transact some legal business, Mrs. Cannon applied for a divorce, which was granted. Recently Cannon decided he wanted to again live with his wife and commenced a correspondence, ending in her accepting him.

Cannon was a friend of Kit Carson in his time, of James Bowie, "Wild Bill," James Bowie, and the rest of that band of Indian fighters who led the vanguard of civilization westward in the 40's and 50's. No man ever had a more romantic story. A boy of fourteen he was at the horrible massacre of the Alamo, of which he is the sole survivor. To him Davy Crockett entrusted the last words he wrote just before death came upon him. The boy, in the disguise of a Mexican, escaped the massacre, and carried the awful tidings to the world.

In the Mexican war he served with distinction and at the conclusion became a government scout and interpreter, acting as escort to the long trains of emigrants that stretched away across the plains toward the land of gold.

PLENARY OF TIME

To Change Views on the Silver Question, Says Mr. Ingalls.

MACON, Mo., April 18.—In conversation with a member of the G. A. R., at the state encampment being held here, Hon. J. J. Ingalls has declared he is not only in favor of putting a plank into the national platform favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver, but that he is strongly in favor of nominating a candidate who is personally in favor of that principle.

"Why," remarked a prominent G. A. R. man "you will knock out McKinley."

"No," replied Mr. Ingalls, "I do not mean that, or go so far, because there is plenty of time and men often change their positions."

THE PEACE UNION

Adopts the Eighteenth of April as Annual Peace Day.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 18.—The members of the Universal Peace Union gathered in the chamber of Select Council to-day, to participate in the second annual celebration of "Peace Day in America." The meeting was held directly for the purpose of commemorating the signing of the arbitration treaty at Washington, D. C., on April 18, 1893, "whereby the American republics were dedicated to peace."

President Alfred H. Love called the meeting to order. W. L. McDowell, president of the Human Freedom League, presented the city with a model of the liberty bell. The model was received by the mayor in a brief address. Resolutions were then adopted that the eighteenth day of April be regarded as an annual Peace day for America, and that greetings be sent to other republics, after which the meeting adjourned.

CAUSED A SENSATION.

A Note for Three Hundred Thousand Dollars Signed by Stanford and Fair Turns Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—There is a sensation in financial circles over a note for $300,000 involving the Stanford and Fair estates. It was in the nature of a surprise to the attorneys and executors of both sides. The note was forwarded by William G. Howell, of New York, of whom nobody appears to have ever heard before, to the First National bank for collection.

J. S. Angus, one of the executors of the Fair estate, said there was such a note for $300,000, but whether genuine or not he was not prepared to say.

"All we know about it," said he, "is that last Monday S. G. Murphy, president of the First National bank, came to us with the note. It purported to be drawn by Mr. Fair to the order of Leland Stanford. It was for $300,000, was dated five years ago, and was then nearly due."

A Fake Pure and Simple.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Denison, Texas, says: The Guthrie, Okla., special in regard to an internecine war at Tiahomingo, Chickasaw Nation, is a fake pure and simple. The government autonomy of the Chickasaw Nation is moving along without a jar and the Chickasaws are less disturbed with international complications just now than for years.

She Did not Suffer.

Three months before our first child my wife suffered so from cramps and pains she could not get in or out of the house without help, and was often in bed for two or three days at a time. I obtained a bottle of "Mothers' Friend," and after the first application pains and cramps ceased. She continued to use the remedy and suffered no serious inconvenience until the hour of confinement—at which time she suffered but little pain—her recovery was rapid and complete—in fact, she suffered no pain after birth. Her friends say they never saw anything to equal her case. Truly "Mothers' Friend" is a blessing to expectant mothers, and my wife shall never be without it. E. E.
